In years 5 and 6, the children are expected to read a wide range of texts including whole novels. Children are also encouraged to read a classic text. Alongside fiction, encourage your child to read magazines, biographies, and current news articles aimed at children.

Encourage your child to listen to and enjoy a range of poems including classical poems and poems from other cultures shared in poetry books for children:

Encourage your child to read non-fiction texts that are linked to their topic or interests.

These books are our recommended texts for years 5 and 6. We hope that these will encourage children to develop a lifelong love of literature. As well as encouraging your children to read these texts independently, these wonderful texts are great to share and enjoy alongside your child. As well as sharing books together, encourage your child to listen to audio books to develop their vocabulary and knowledge of literary devices.
